

Meet David N. Hale - Committed to Fruit Heights

David N. Hale is a longtime Davis County resident and Davis High School graduate. He and his wife, NiCole, have raised six children and are proud grandparents. Fruit Heights isn't just where they live - it's home.

David holds a Computer Science degree from BYU and an MBA from the University of Arizona. With over 27 years of experience in software development, product management, and business account management, he has led successful projects at Xerox, the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, and FamilySearch.

A dedicated public servant, David has served as a county delegate, precinct vice-chair, emergency response coordinator, and community outreach facilitator. He is CERT trained and holds a HAM radio license - highlighting his commitment to preparedness and service.

David enjoys hiking Utah's trails, gardening, and spending time with his family in the community he loves. He understands what makes Fruit Heights special and is ready to help it grow - safely, responsibly, and with vision.

Vote David N. Hale - for a Stronger, Safer, and More Connected Fruit Heights.
